We had marked the March 21st top of the bull market running from the October 2022 bottom, but if closes were to break IC4 Nasdaq would likely rally to IC2. The area around target 4 is historically where bull markets tops are made, so we will watch the progress of Nasdaq as we likely move up to 19000 level. We detect a degree of short-term manipulation in the indices so it is possible the break up through IC4 on 3rd May is an aberration against the cycles. If so, closes would need to return below IC4 in 1-2 days, and if closes do fall below IC4, a fall to target 3 would be likely.
